Whether you're a developer helping clients streamline their eCommerce operations, a WooCommerce® store owner seeking to understand customer preferences, or a business owner looking for a simple way to keep high-demand products in the spotlight, Back In Stock Notifications is built with you in mind.

Automatically notify customers when products they're interested in are back in stock, and track demand for your most popular items. The plugin integrates seamlessly with WooCommerce® to capture customer interest and manage notifications efficiently.

This is a 100% free plugin for WooCommerce® that lets your customers stay connected with products they love while providing you with meaningful insights into product demand.
